Sanguis Jovis Summer School Third Edition

PRESIDENT: Professor Attilio SCIENZA
DIRECTOR: Professor Alberto MATTIACCI

ADMISSION ANNOUNCEMENT

Fondazione Banfi, recognized by the Italian Presidential Decree of 2 May 1986, based in Montalcino, Castello di Poggio alle Mura, establishes the first edition of the Sanguis Jovis Summer School on the topic "TERROIRS OF SANGIOVESE IN TUSCANY Knowledge, Storytelling, Market" in collaboration with Scuola Permanente dell'Abitare.

1 - Purpose

The Sanguis Jovis Summer School aims to create an original training course, seeking to innovate the mentality and culture of wine professionals and to project it into the future in the spatial coordinates of globalization. The cultural model of reference is the preparatory course organized in Berlin in the 1920s, as part of the Bauhaus Rationalist Movement.

The Classroom. The course intends to create a joint classroom, gathering on one side young graduates and researchers, with their curiosity and their desire to experiment, and on the other professionals and managers of companies, who bring their consolidated expertise, primarily from the wine industry, but also from other areas of the production-consumption chain.

The Lecturers. Academics and non-academics, belonging to the worlds of culture and technology, biological sciences and liberal arts. Their challenge is to bring knowledge to the problems of production and the market, stimulating innovation, and thus creating a new scientifically robust and culturally lively understanding among wine professionals.

Joining those who already work in the wine industry and those who aspire to do so, the teaching staff from different backgrounds and scientific perspectives will stimulate an extraordinary circulation of technical and cultural information, helping the participants to understand how the world of knowledge is evolving and how this will affect production and marketing.

Last but not least, the residential formula of the course will favor the establishment of quality interpersonal bonds, destined to last over time and to increase the network of colleagues and, hopefully, friends for every participant.

2 - Organization of Educational Activities

The 2019 course is held in Italian and takes place in a residential mode - full-time teaching and residency at the course location for the entire duration of the course.

The educational activities are composed of 50 (fifty) hours of educational activity. The program also fully embraces the afternoon and evening, offering a series of activities to facilitate learning and exchange. For this purpose, support tutors will be involved. The educational activities will take place in Montalcino at the Officina Creativa dell'Abitare (OCRA) in via Boldrini 4. Three trips are planned to deepen the knowledge of the terroir at some partners wineries identified by the management. Trips are an integral part of the education program and, therefore, participation follows rules explained in the next paragraph.

Attendance of the educational activities of the course is mandatory and must be attested with the signatures of the participants; absences for more than 20% of the total hours of classes will not allow to obtain the Certificate. In the event of non-attendance, low achievement or otherwise questionable behaviour, the Director may decide to suspend or exclude such participant. In such cases, the paid registration fees will not be refunded.

At the end of the course, each participant will receive a Certificate of participation.

The practical-theoretical path: Course location and the Academic staff

Mornings are aimed at developing the fundamental scientific and technical skills to successfully operate in the enhancement and interpretation of Sangiovese grapes.

The front-end teaching takes place in the classrooms of Complesso di Sant'Agostino in Montalcino, and is entrusted to the leading experts of the disciplines involved (genetics, geo-pedology, cultivation technique, eco-physiology of maturation, oenological chemistry, technique of fermentation and aging, sensory analysis) of the Universities of Milan, Florence, Piacenza, Pisa and the centers of the CREA Vine, CREA Soil Science and FEM of S. Michele all'Adige – in addition to some of the most famous winemakers working in Tuscany.

The field experience: analysis of case studies

Field activities are aimed at comparing theoretical knowledge of young researchers with the practical knowledge of technicians working in Tuscan companies, who will be expected to face with practical cases of study, such as:

- The recognition of the different geological matrices,
- their role in the Sangiovese quality,
- the evaluation of the impact of some cultivation techniques on the ripening of the grapes,
- verification of oenological interventions on sensory profiles,
- the aging aptitude of the wines.

Visits to the countryside and meetings in the cellar are included in these specific activities.
