MUSIC

Since I was a child, I am extremely interested in music and history of music. During my life I attended many courses of violin and piano, while I learnt to play the guitar and the saxophone as autodidact. This passion also led me to deepen the theme of history of music, in particular the history of ancient-world music and classical compositions.

READING

One of my greatest fondness is reading. A few years ago, this interest joined the one for viticulture and oenology, therefore I started to create a personal library, where I collect contemporary and ancient viticulture books.
